

Happy Food Co. makes it easy for people to enjoy great local food at home.

About three years ago, Kiersten Firquain and Jeff Glasco co-founded Happy Food Co. Kiersten is the chef and Jeff is the CEO. The business focuses on taking care of the planning, shopping, measuring and chopping, so busy people can pick up a kit and easily cook fresh and tasty meals with local ingredients at home.

The Happy Food Co. team prepares the meal kits with everything you need to cook a restaurant-quality meal in no time flat. Some of the meals vary seasonally and recently Happy Food Co. even introduced vegan and gluten-free kits. Chef K attended culinary school and is excited to perhaps even share some new culinary techniques with people.

The meal kits range in price from about $18-$32 and feed a typical family of four. Happy Food Co. meal kits are now available for purchase in the Lead Bank Crossroads location during the second quarter as well as 40 other local grocery stores in and around Kansas City.

About Grow Home Spotlight

Lead Bank introduced "Grow Home Spotlight" during Q4 2017. This initiative celebrates and supports Kansas City small businesses by featuring local businesses' products at the Lead Bank Crossroads location each quarter. Lead Bank wants people in the community to know the stories of our great, local Kansas City businesses.

Lead Bankers are trained on the ins and outs of what makes each retailer's products and experience special. Bankers learn the inventory and brand message so they can effectively deliver the retail experience at the Bank. By acquainting themselves with the brand, Bankers can articulate what makes each company such a special, unique business to Kansas City. Our mission is to be at the heart of the success of our communities, which means it is our responsibility, as a bank, to foster the economy of local small businesses. We're excited to be able to work with these great business owners and to be able to showcase some of their products to everyone in the downtown area.
